Clark the Juggler Presents: "You Are Worth It"

Hopkins Middle School had the privilege of hosting Clark Lewis or "Clark the Juggler" on Wednesday, February 5th for a student assembly. He is a fellow Michigander and a variety performer who has been taking his act on the road for the last three years.

He began the show with an impressive display of juggling and included feats of strength and mastery of balance. Once he caught the attention of our middle school students, he shared his personal journey through depression and his message that no matter what is happening in life, "You Are Worth It." This message of positive self-worth coincides with our current advisory lessons on grit and resilience that all students have been receiving the past few weeks. Thank you, Clark, for sharing your story and message that all students need to hear!

For more information on Clark, please visit his website:

From the Superintendent

Gary Wood,
Superintendent

The school year is racing by and we are busy as ever. Despite our hectic schedules, we will be asking you to attend some important upcoming events. The first will be a community diversity and inclusion event. This will be held on Monday, March 9 at 6:00 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. More information on this event can be found on the school website.

The other events relate to the district's decision to renew the sinking fund millage that was passed in 2016. This millage has allowed the district to address many necessary facility issues and will continue to do so, if passed again. The dates for these community forums are not yet set.

Finally, I hope you enjoy this addition of the Viking View and the rest of this mild winter.

The Thoughtful Classroom

As Principal in the high school I have the privilege to work with many wonderful people in many different capacities. The responsibility that I enjoy most are my visits to classrooms. Although it may put a little stress on the dynamics of a typical class period (I hear that students may behave a little more reserved) it is amazing to watch the interactions between the students and their teacher. The learning opportunities that are presented and the engagement of the students to the task at hand is the dance that happens daily within our walls five class periods per day. I know, through conversation, that the principals in each building enjoy their classroom visits. We visit thoughtful classrooms. Then what....?

How do we reflect upon what is observed in a classroom? How does this visit assist a teacher to be reflective about their profession? What is the impact on student learning? These are the questions at the core of our trade.

To address these questions... a few years ago, Hopkins Public Schools adopted the Thoughtful Classroom Teacher Framework as the teacher evaluation system. We chose this framework because we felt we could personally grow through our conversations about our practice.

We are reflective of our practices that are considered the "four cornerstones" of teaching:

- Organization, Rules and Procedures- Students know what is expected of them when they walk into a classroom. Teachers address vital non-instructional tasks.
- Positive Relationships- Necessary to encourage and enrich the student's learning experience.
- Engagement and Enjoyment- The interaction students have with their lesson and instruction.
- A Culture of Thinking and Learning- An environment and practice that brings rigor to learning.

We discuss the five dimensions of instruction that a teacher utilizes to get their content across to students. We discuss and plan how to improve practice in the following areas:

- Prepare Students for New Learning
- Presenting New Learning
- Deepening and Reinforcing Learning
- Applying Learning
- Reflecting On and Celebrating Learning

We are committed to the dimension of Professional Practice and Commitment to Professional Growth. This year one of our staff development focuses has been on whole-child education and how to build positive relationships by understanding the back-story of individual students and how to best help them. We are committed to improving the educational process through the use of the Thoughtful Classroom Framework. We have an outstanding teaching staff and we will continue to grow in our expertise to address the needs of all students. Your child's experience at Hopkins Public Schools is in the hands of professionals.

Hopkins Public Schools has heart. This past December each school in the district collected a bus full of toys, games, and crafts for children at The Helen DeVos Children's Hospital. The 5th Annual EPIC TOY DRIVE was well under way at the beginning of December and continued to be a flurry of activity up until the day of delivery.

Student leaders loaded a huge donation onto a Hopkins Public School bus and merrily hand delivered thousands of dollars worth of toys to the many grateful Child Life Specialists and Hospital Volunteers. These toys, games and crafts will be given throughout the year to children that need a little hope during their treatments. While delivering the many gifts the Hopkins student leaders were treated to a tour of the hospital along with informative discussions on how the hospital works as a team to provide the best medical options for its patients. The Hopkins National Honor Society would like to thank all of those that participated in this year's EPIC TOY DRIVE. This event is truly heartfelt that affects many more than we can imagine. Our donation will provide a smile and hope to those children that visit the hospital throughout the year. We look forward to making next year's EPIC TOY DRIVE even bigger and better than this year.

FIRST Robotics Team Keeping Busy

Wise Farm Bridge Project

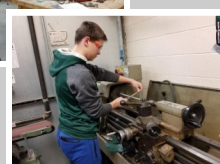

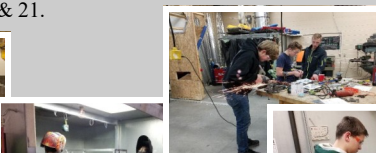

The team has been working with the Wise Farm Foundation and local businesses to design and install a new pedestrian bridge over the river at the Wise Farm in Hopkinsburg. The deck is in place and the handrails will be installed in the spring.

Off Season Competitions

The team competed at the Ferris State and West Michigan Robotics Invitational. They placed 2nd at Ferris State and won the competition at West Michigan. Great Job!

2020 Robotics Season

This year's challenge includes collecting and shooting balls into a target. The team is building a small, fast robot that includes an automatic aiming turret. The plan is to always seek the target and score the balls from virtually anywhere on the field. The student members have designed the robot in 3D CAD and the fabrication and electrical teams are busy bringing the robot to life. We will compete at St. Joseph High School on March 6 & 7 and at Grand Valley State University on March 20 & 21.

Sycamore Elementary Students Run Across the US

Students at Sycamore Elementary have been running across the U.S.! Each class ran laps this fall either inside or outside, and those laps were turned into miles. So far this year, the kids have run 1,367.8 miles to reach Nephi, Utah!

STARBASE is a program created to offer hands-on STEM activities that capture the imagination of students.

Here are some of the fun activities that Sycamore Elementary Students were able to participate in.

- Eggbert Activity: Students had to design a space shuttle to launch their egg and have it land without breaking. They learned basic engineering theories and used math in a practical application.
- Rocket Building: Students created rockets and were able to launch them outside. In this activity the students learned about the basics of force and motion.
- West Michigan College of Aviation Field Trip: A college student in the program took students on a tour of the hanger and old control tower. Students were also allowed to view different airplanes and discuss how they work.

Winter Warmth Drive

Hopkins Elementary Student Council held a variety of drives this Christmas. One of the drives was "Winter Warmth!" Families in our district sent in gently used winter gear (coats, snow pants, boots, hats, gloves, etc.) to the school. After a 3 week collection, a lot of winter gear was ready to be donated to Greg and Dawn Buist and their program at The Bridge in Allegan, which provides families in need throughout the county with various items, winter gear being one of those things. It was great seeing their truck loaded with boxes and bags full of donated items. HES families are absolutely awesome!

MICHIGAN HISTORY

On Thursday, January 23rd, Don Cochrane from Camp Kaskitowa in Allegan came to Hopkins Elementary for a Michigan History presentation.

During the "Michigan 1763 Living History" presentation, students got to meet a Coureur de Bois (French-Canadian Independent fur trader) who helped them understand what life was like in Michigan 250 years ago. Students also learned about the impact Native American cultures (Potawatomi, Ojibwa, Ottawa, and Huron) and European Colonial cultures (French, British) had on each other in 1763 during Michigan's colonial period. At the end of the presentation, students learned about the tools and skills needed to survive in the North Woods over 250 years ago.
